Mystery man aids Santa's holiday effort

Jolly old Saint Nicholas received major assistance with his Romulus holiday deliveries this year from an anonymous donor, who presented the local Goodfellows with more than $5,000 worth of special toys and games.

Police Officer John Smagner, head of the local Goodfellows organization, said another $4,000 in cash and other gifts were collected by Goodfellow representatives and turned into massive supplies of food and warm clothing for needy families.

Romulus Fire Chief William Greenslait said that he received an anonymous call several weeks ago asking where the Goodfellows were located.

Greenslait said he gave the mystery caller the address of Fire Station No. 4 and a short time later the first of three truckloads of toys began to arrive for distribution to some of the less fortunate families in the city.

Greenslait said the only clue he received from the anonymous donor was his beeper number. That was supplied only so that Greenslait could confirm the arrival of the toys from Toy Liquidators store in Taylor.

The gift was an "unheard of act of generosity" for Romulus youth, Greenslait said. "But it also gave everyone in the Romulus Fire Department and throughout city government a great holiday feeling. "Even the girls in the fire stations were excited by the arrival of the gifts," he continued.

It also thrilled the house-to-house delivery volunteers, Greenslait said, "because we don't usually get a chance to pass out $20 Christmas toys and games. Wide eyes and warm smiles were the topic of the week as deliveries were made to area children."

Among the holiday gifts donated by the generous caller, Greenslait said, were 21 toy fire engines, 30 battle cruisers, 20 helicopters, 24 telescopes, 24 Afro-American baby dolls, 50 Toy Town Centers, 24 kitchen combo sets, 28 Minnie Mouse cycles, 27 dinosaur cycles, 10 speed wheels, 15 power command challenge toys, 10 Red Raiders and eight ice hockey games.

The total cost of these and other toys came to $5000.93, Greenslait said.

Smagner and his wife, Terry, completed all the paperwork involved in the applications for Christmas gifts, Greenslait said.

The Goodfellow volunteers began delivering the gifts to 250 Romulus homes on Dec. 17 and finished their deliveries a day or two before Christmas.

Smagner said his crew consisted of about 35 firemen, four police officers, 10 Department of Public Works employees and various other City Hall workers.

In addition to the young children's homes, Smagner said, about 40-50 senior citizens were also aided.

"One elderly widow we visited was crying first when we arrived because she was going to be alone for the holidays," Smagner said, "and later began crying as we left because she was so overjoyed by the gifts and friendship.

"One formerly unemployed father called us after a gift delivery was made," Smagner said, "and stated that while he was thankful for the generosity displayed by the Goodfellows and community residents he was back on the job and was donating the gifts to another more needy family."

Smagner said other major contributors to the Goodfellows drive included Lear's Seating of Romulus, which donated $500 in toys and canned goods; Cory School staff and students, who conducted a food drive; Federal Screw Inc., which provided frozen turkeys and $250 in cash; DST Industries, which provided a cash donation; State Rep. James Kosteva, who donated $200 in cash; National Rent A Car, which gave $100 in cash and the Romulus Police Command Officers group, who also donated $100.

Earlier on Goodfellows collection day, Smagner said, 50 volunteer firemen, City Hall employees, members of the Police and Fire Safety Committee and average citizens joined in accepting the holiday donations.

Smagner said he wanted to thank all the volunteer workers, donors and any of the anonymous givers who made the 1992 effort such a happy experience.

Greenslait echoed Smagner's thanks to the community and said he hopes the anonymous donor also has an extremely Merry Christmas himself.

Vacant houses will be razed

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A boarded up Wahrman Street home recently purchased by Wayne County in preparation for Metro Airport expansion was set on fire Dec. 21, the same night that Deputy Wayne County Executive Michael Duggan was spelling out the planned expansion before the members of the Romulus City Council.

Duggan was just finishing his extended talk, when Greenslait stood up in the audience and told Duggan of the fire call. "This is already the second time this particular vacant house has gone on fire," the chief explained, and another county owned home on the same street was also damaged recently by a suspicious fire.

Greenslait strongly urged Duggan to have something done quickly before a local fireman is seriously injured battling the blazes.

"The cost of putting out the fire that night was $933 to the city," he explained later, "but the biggest worry is that someone may cut a hole in the floor of one of these vacated homes and a fireman may go charging in to fight the blaze and fall to the basement and be seriously injured."

Duggan expressed surprise and alarm. He stated county officials would set up a meeting to discuss the fire hazard.

Greenslait said Duggan stopped at the fire-damaged house after he left the Dec. 21 meeting.

Pat Kakula, administrative aide to Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara, kept that promise on Tuesday morning by meeting with Greenslait, Mayor Beverly McAnally and City Building Department Director David Paul.

McAnally said, "Many people have urged us to let the homes burn to the ground, but we can't because of the number of planes in the air near the airport."

Thus the only answer is demolition as soon as possible, McAnally told Kakula.

Following the Tuesday morning meeting, McAnally said, the city provided a priority list of streets where boarded up homes must be razed.

The priority list is as follows: Wahrman Street, Northline, Eureka Road, Goddard Road and South Wayne Road.

McAnally said she has been told that the county will begin demolition action right after the first of the year.

The boarded up homes must first be inspected by the Romulus Fire Department and the normal legal demolition process must then be completed prior to the actual razing, Greenslait explained.

Duggan had told city council members he planned to return during the summer of 1993 for a further explanation of the airport expansion plans, unless Wayne County Commissioners "do something crazy."

He was referring to the rumor that the commissioners might stall on approving the $3 passenger facility charge even though it had already been approved by the Federal Aviation Administration.

But Duggan's worries were ended on Dec.17, when the commissioners approved the $3 surcharge on airline tickets

Romulus alumni face 'chili' future

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The newly-formed Romulus High School Alumni Association has begun accepting memberships from graduates.

For future trivia buffs, Alumni Coordinator Marge Bergman revealed that the first paid member of the organization was Gale Randall Henry, a member of the RHS class of 1966.

Henry was followed closely by Ingrid Preis Utley, a member of the class of 1968, Bergman said.

Each membership is numbered and all memberships received before Feb. 27, 1993 will be considered charter members.

The first big event for the Romulus alumni will be a "Coming Home" week long venture beginning Jan. 31 and continuing through Feb. 6.

The first day will include an all-day basketball tournament co- sponsored by the city recreation department.

Other events will include a volleyball competition, euchre tournament, as well as chess and checker challenges.

These activities will be open to all alumni, as well as current Romulus High School students.

The first Great Romulus High School Chili Cook Off is tentatively set for Feb. 4, Bergman said.

Free samples will be provided to all the evening participants.

There also will be a reception for alumni in the new field house lobby on Feb. 6 in conjunction with the formal dance for students in the school cafeteria.

Individuals wishing to join the alumni group are urged to contact Bergman at the high school at 941-2170 or at home at 697-4329.

Each alumni member will be required to pay $10 in annual dues. The money will be used to fund a local scholarship.

The association logo featuring a large airborne eagle holding a ribbon banner with the name Romulus Alumni written on it was created by Jim Bowman.

Inmate, 22, faces bleak new year

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Accused double-murderer Tommy Collins, 22, of Romulus, is not looking forward to the new year.

He faces two life prison terms when he is sentenced on Jan. 28 in Detroit Recorder's Court, after pleading guilty on Dec. 14 to a pair of murder charges involving a Taylor mother and daughter.

Collins was arrested on Dec. 20, 1991 and charged with the stabbing deaths of Carlynne Reno, 46, of Taylor and her 21-year-old daughter, Robin.

Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Daniel Less said the mother and daughter were found stabbed to death in their Hazel Street home early in the morning of May 10, 1991.

A medical examiner's report stated that Robin's body was found in the living room and she had been stabbed 19 times.

Her mother's body was located in the bedroom and her throat had been slashed.

The gruesome discovery of the bodies was made by Kenneth Reno, 51, husband and father of the two victims.

Reno told police he found the bodies after returning from a store, where he bought some glue for his dentures.

After finding the cord to his home phone slashed, Reno said, he took his granddaughter, Kathleen, then aged 2, to a next door home and called the police.

Later Reno said his granddaughter cried "Daddy, please help me..." and then later told him "Tom, Tommy Collins" killed her mother and grandmother.

Less said he was informed only last Sunday that Collins planned to plead guilty to both killings. For months, Collins had insisted that he only killed Robin. He had steadfastly denied until last Monday that he also killed her mother.

The twin-killing for months was considered one of the most unusual in Taylor, because authorities said it involved a plot by the surviving young girl's grandmother to gain custody of her.

Linda Lambert, 44, grandmother to Robin's daughter, Kathleen, was convicted last July of burglary and two counts of involuntary manslaughter. She was accused of talking Collins into carrying out the killings.

Lambert is now serving a 7 1/2 to 15-year prison term.

Reno told the press after the guilty pleas that he was "glad it was over...(and) now I'm going to work on getting on with my life."

Now that's Italian

New restaurant defines home-made

If homemade pasta, tantalizing sauces and scrumptious fresh veal sound at all tempting, then Antonio's Cucina Italiana, 26356 Ford Road in Dearborn Heights, is the place to go.

This family restaurant is ideal for casual or elegant dining, according to owner Anthony Rugiero.

"Our grand opening was June 1," Rugiero said. "We are a unique Italian restaurant because we make everything homemade including the pasta. My mother (Enrica) cooks only the best food."

The Rugiero family will continue the tradition of providing prompt and friendly service as they have been for 30 years at the Roman Village restaurant in Dearborn.

Besides Rugiero and his mother, his father (Antonio) and three brothers (Mark, Patrick and Robert) work at both restaurants to assure customer satisfaction.

"My family rotates between the two restaurants," Rugiero said. "Another unique thing is we have a pasta factory right here in the restaurant. "

Antonio's offers a wide variety of antipasti (appetizers) which include brushetta, roasted peppers, artichoke hearts, breaded zucchini, breaded cauliflower, sauteed mushrooms and wing dings.

The Zuppe del Giorno (soup of the day) is available in small or large portions.

For those looking for a lighter dish, Antonio's has many salads to choose from including Calamari, Antipasto, Greek, Caesers, Antonio's Italian and tossed.

"We also have Calzonis which you won't find in many Italian restaurants," Rugiero said. "We have many kinds of pizza to choose from as well as homemade stuffed pasta dishes."

Seafood selections maintain the Italian flavor such as Shrimp Scampi which is sauteed with garlic and butter or whitefish sauteed in a rich tomato sauce over a bed of pasta.

"We have specials five days a week," Rugiero said. "Sometimes we have things that aren't on the menu that we introduce to the customers. I will suggest an item to a customer who has never tried it, and after they taste it, they love it."

There is also a select children's menu where all the items include a cup of soup and a bread basket.

"We provide a birthday cake for our guests at lunch or dinner," Rugiero said. "We have a full-service bar and the best service. We ask our customers to be patient with waiting for the meal because everything is homemade, and we guarantee the meal will be worth the wait."

Antonio's is open 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Friday, 4 p.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturday and 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Sunday.

No reservations are necessary. Carry out orders are also available by calling 278-6000.

School district may repeat early retirement incentive offer

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP News Editor

The success of the Early Retirement Incentive program for teachers in the Wayne-Westland school district is being touted as a reason to offer the program to more employee groups for the 1992-93 school year.

Wayne-Westland Associate Superintendent of Employee Services Bill Taylor presented a report containing information about the ERI which 77 teachers in the district agreed to take last year.

"I am very pleased with the results," Taylor said. "The numbers and the dollar amounts speak very clearly about the outcome of this activity."

One of the benefits of the ERI was the number of teachers at the higher end of the payscale that could be replaced by teachers at the first step of the payscale.

"It is a fact that the average salary for teachers accepting the ERI was $56,353," Taylor said. "It is also a fact that the average salary of the 70 new hires was $28,707 or $670 less than step 2 of the bachelor of arts salary schedule."

Eleven of those teachers had returned from leave, according to Taylor.

"We have clearly stated the average cost of the 11 teachers returning from leave was $45,653," Taylor said.

When the ERI program was announced last year for teachers, Taylor and school officials stated they would try to hire teachers at the third step of the salary schedule.

"We have been very successful in not only meeting this goal, but exceeding our objective," Taylor said.

Taylor also indicated that 77 teachers would not have retired last year, if the ERI hadn't been offered.

- During the 1987-88 school year 37 teachers retired. A low-cost ERI was offered.
- During the 1988-89 school year 10 teachers retired.
- During the 1989-90 school year 37 teachers retired.
- During the 1990-91 school year 17 teachers retired.
- During the 1991-92 school year when the ERI was offered 77 teachers retired. Teachers were offered $24,000.

"Very clearly the 1991-92 ERI produced a high number of retirements resulting in a very successful outcome," Taylor said. "There is no question in my mind that savings will continue beyond 1993-94, but our primary objective is not to try to maximize savings."

Taylor referred to the Wayne-Westland teachers ERI as "one of the most successful in the state."

He also listed some of the disadvantages of offering an ERI.

The loss of experienced teachers was the primary disadvantage Taylor offered.

Other advantages included a chance for teachers in the district to move to vacated positions, an opportunity to hire minorities and to hire a younger work force.

Of the more than 70 teachers who were hired, 46 of those started at the first step of the salary schedule, three were hired at second step, five were hired at the third step, two were hired at the fourth step, one was hired at the sixth step, one was hired at the seventh step and two were hired at the ninth step.

Those teachers who were hired and have a master's degree included: three who were hired at the first step, two who were hired at the second step, three who were hired at the third step, one who was hired at the fifth step and one who was hired at the sixth step.

By the 1993-94 school year Taylor has projected the district will save $1,787,495 from the 1991-92 ERI program.

Airport query hotline set up

Mayor Beverly McAnally has set up a special hot line for residents to call in any questions about the impact of airport expansion on their home or business.

The special number is 942-7574.

The hotline has been created because of the recent announcement by Michael Duggan, Wayne County Deputy Executive, that Romulus residents impacted by airport noise could be allowed to seek relief via three means: sale of property to county, cost-free sound proofing of home or a 10-year property assurance period during which time the county will pay for any loss in sale price caused by airport issues.

Romulus soldier completes training

Army Pvt. Tamara N. Donald has completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood in Waynesville, Mo.

She is the daughter of Betty J. and Lewis Donald of Romulus. She graduated from Romulus High School in June.

Romulus pastor to speak at rally

The Rev. Dr. J.D. Landis, pastor of the Community United Methodist Church, will be one of the key speakers at the annual "Rally for Life" on Jan. 17, 1993 at Kennedy Square in Detroit.

Landis, a member of the Right to Life-Lifespan of Metro Detroit advisory council, will join statewide political, professional and religious leaders at the 2 p.m. rally memorializing the 20th anniversary of the Roe vs. Wade decision by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Hunter safety course slated

The latest in Michigan Safe Hunter courses is planned for Jan. 23 and 24 at the Wayne County Sportsman's Club.

Value of good marks on rise

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus Senior High School students are finding out that good grades are worth even more today.

A program that was initiated last month grants high school students with special "Privilege Cards" that allow them to obtain special discounts for products and services from 18 area businesses.

The discounts range from $400 off on new or used cars purchased from John Rogin Buick of Wayne to 10-20 percent off haircuts, sporting goods or school merchandise.

The cards are broken down into three separate categories including a gold card for those earning a 4.0 grade point average, a silver card for those with 3.0 to 3.9 grade point averages and maroon cards for those with perfect attendance for an entire marking period.

The cards presented on Nov. 17 will be effective until the next marking period ends.

Gail Coleman, the Romulus High School teacher who coordinated the program, said additional businesses will be added to future cards.

Those companies also listed on the current cards are: AMC theaters of Dearborn, Benetton-Twelve Oaks Mall, Dave's Barber Shop, Elias Brothers, Jordan's II Dining, MC Sporting Goods, Ramada Inn, Romulus Flowers and Gifts, Romulus High School Auto Shop and Eagle Shack, Rush's Florist, Subway shop, Taco Bell of Belleville, Target store of Westland, the Hairport and White Castle of Wayne.

At least three new companies are slated to be added to the next cards including Romulus McDonalds, Romulus Video and Wayne Dairy Queen.

The goal of the program is to increase the positive impact on high academic grades, Coleman said.

Further information about the program is available from Coleman at 941-2170 or Ed Clark, Partnership for Education chairman, at 941-0610.

Romulus schools could be national model

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The Romulus school district educational technology program may soon become one of the models for school systems across the U.S.

Congressman William Ford (D-Ypsilanti) spent four hours on Dec. 16 examining the extensive computerized educational programs offered by the Romulus School District.

Ford, chairman of the congressional Labor and Education Committee, sought the extended visit as a prelude to a planned major rewriting of the national educational funding act due sometime next year in Washington.

Dr. William Bedell, Romulus superintendent of schools, last spring had hosted two of Ford's committee members. After they became deeply impressed with the Romulus technology system, the committee and staff members urged Ford to personally conduct an inspection.

Ford first was given a quick overview of the Romulus system at the Romulus school administration office and then was given a "hands on" experience at Wick Elementary School.

As Ford walked in the Wick Elementary School doors, a student Christmas program was in process and they sang the carol We Wish You a Merry Christmas for the congressman.

Not to be outdone, Ford and Arthur McPharlin, administrative assistant to Bedell, returned the compliment and sang the first verse of the carol back to the students.

Ford then explained to the students that Romulus was somewhat of a microcosm of the nation with its multicultured student body and therefore fit as a good example of national needs.

The veteran congressman challenged the students to use the technological skills to keep America a first class nation.

He asked the students to begin setting goals for their lives and expressed pleasure to find so many female students had already expressed a deep interest in mathematics and science.

at Metro Airport. The ticket charge is expected to generate about $30 million annually for the airport and fund most of the airport expansion costs.

The only commissioner to oppose the charge was Susan Hubbard of Dearborn.

But McAnally said since so few Romulus residents were at the Dec. 21 city council meeting to hear Duggan explain the county three-level offer for homeowners impacted by airport noise, another public session with county representatives would be called early in 1993.

The three level offer Duggan outlined at the meeting was affected homeowners could (1) sell their homes to the county; (2) ask the county to soundproof their homes free of charge or (3) have the county set up a 10-year property assurance period for their residential property.

That third program would mean if residents sold their home during that period and the selling price was cut because of airplane noise...the county would pay the difference.

No date has been set for that public meeting yet, McAnally said.

Teen arrested on gun charge

A 19-year-old Romulus man was arrested and charged with possession of a sawed off 20-gauge shotgun last Saturday.

Police said an anonymous caller phoned about 2:50 a.m. Saturday and reported hearing shots fired in a mobile home park area on East and South Maple streets.

Minutes later, a uniformed officer spotted two men walking in the park area and then heard shots again.

He arrested Scott M. Cowens, 18, of Romulus, and charged him with possession of the weapon he was reportedly carrying under his coat.

Police said a search of the area found no gunshot damage and they could discover no reason for the repeated gunfire.

Cowens was arraigned before 34th District Court Judge William J. Szlinis. Bail was set at $5,000 personal bond with a return hearing date set for Dec. 30.

New principal to begin Feb. 5

Andrea Williams

Romulus Junior High School students will return to their newly- remodeled school building on Tuesday Jan. 5, 1993 and meet their new principal, Andrea Henrietta Swan Williams the same day.

All other students will return from the holiday the day before.

Williams was named as principal last week and her salary of $69,000 was set and approved by members of the Romulus Community School Board at a special meeting on Monday.

The board also set Jan. 4 as her opening day, giving her a chance to meet with her staff a day before the students return from the Christmas holiday.

The students will find themselves in a period of transition with the opening of the new year, as they have spent the last four months on the western campus of Wayne County Community College while the school building renovation was completed.

The 7th graders actually will find themselves in the junior high building for the first time, as they were transferred to the WCCC campus the first day of the fall semester.

Williams has been assistant principal at Drew Middle School on Wyoming Street in Detroit since 1988.

A native of Tuskegee, Al., Williams is a 1969 graduate of Western Michigan University. She earned her masters in science degree at the University of Michigan in 1978.

She also has done post graduate work at Oakland University of Rochester, Eastern University in Ypsilanti and Wayne State University of Detroit.

Williams was reportedly selected out of the final three applicants because of her "wealth of experience in moving a junior high to a middle school concept," Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell said.

He added, "that is the direction we are going."

Bedell also stated, "Drew Middle School has been cited as an exemplary middle school."

Williams succeeds Jesse Meriweather, who was appointed Romulus Athletic Director in August.

Air Force Staff Sgt. Roy E. Gowen Jr.

Local serviceman home from Gulf

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Air Force Staff Sgt. Roy E. Gowen Jr. is accustomed to hot and dusty 12-hour work days.

Gowen, who just returned from the Arabian Gulf region, spent 90 days in the desert area keeping U.S. Air Force jets combat ready so they can prevent any Iraqi air travel below the 32nd parallel no-fly zone.

Gowen, son of Roy E. and Lorraine H. Gowen of Romulus, was the crew chief on the F-15 in the 4404th Composite Wing, responsible for keeping U.S. air dominance in the Arabian Gulf area.

In addition to the heat and extended hours, Air Force personnel were also forced to battle blowing sand that can be extremely hazardous to aircraft.

"My job is to insure that my jet is ready to fly the mission and bring my pilot back safely," Gowen said prior to his return.

"Without our jets flying the 32nd parallel over the Southern Watch area," Gowen said, "Iraqi air force planes could attack and destroy Kuwait."

When not on the job, the 1979 Wayne Memorial High School graduate was able to relax in the air conditioned apartment suites that are equipped with cable TV, microwave ovens and other modern conveniences.

The Air Force also offers fitness centers, swimming pools and several outdoor sporting facilities within walking distances from the military dormitories.

Gowen said the most interesting experience in his latest tour was the day he went shopping in a downtown store and discovered it was prayer time for the local residents.

"They closed up as soon as the last person exited the store," he said.

Upon returning to the U.S. recently, Gowen called his parents.

Gowen told his dad he wasn't sure if he, his wife, Hae Chong, and his 3-year-old son, Dennis, would be home for Christmas.

Gowen married his wife while serving in Korea, his mother said, and then a U.S. style marriage ceremony was celebrated at Merriman Road Baptist Church in 1989.

The senior Gowens have lived in Romulus for the past seven years. Gowen's dad is an employee of the General Motors Powertrain division of Romulus.

Local theater group gears up

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

An enthusiastic theater fan is setting the stage for a new group of community players in western Wayne County.

"I think the time is right for a community theater group in Belleville," said Sherry Maironis, who is busy gathering support from local actors, producers, directors and the business community. "Most of our publicity has been by word of mouth, and we've had an enthusiastic response."

Because of the busy holiday season, Maironis plans to wait until 7 p.m. Jan. 6 to host the next organizational meeting at the Golden Boy Restaurant in Belleville. She is hoping that people interested in all facets of theater production will attend.

"We have some people with experience in directing, producing and set design, and we need people in all areas of theater production," said Maironis. "We want to plan a fund-raising event, perhaps a murder mystery dinner presentation."

Maironis plans to begin with the modest goal of producing one play in the first season. Later, she hopes the group will produce up to three or four stage presentations annually.

The organizer of the Belleville Area Community Players has a long-term interest in the theater.

"I worked with the Dearborn Players Guild and in high school productions," Maironis said. "I'm one of those kids who took tap, ballet, voice and violin."

Her interest in developing a community theater group came from her involvement in the Schoolcraft College academic options program.

"The options program allows students to earn three to 12 credits for a special project. I geared my presentation to the theater when I spoke to college officials, and I was accepted into the program. In addition to earning credits, I'll also have the help of the college in developing the theater group."

The cat's meow

Presidential look-alikes sought

The search for a Presidential look-alike continues. Somewhere in this area there lurks a double for the celebrity soon to leave the governor's mansion in Arkansas for the White House.

Surely, we can find a double somewhere for this newly-famous and often photographed member of the first family.

No, we don't want Bill or Hillary. And perhaps we'll search for a Chelsea look alike later on, but right now we're interested in the one member of the family who has really peaked the interest of the press corps.

The area feline who most resembles Socks, the Clinton family cat, will be awarded a large Christmas stocking loaded with items designed to please even the most finicky member of the species.

Cats wishing to enter need only have their owners submit a snapshot of them, looking their most presidential, of course, to the judges at: Associated Newspapers, Inc. P.O. Box 578, Wayne, Mich., 48184 prior to Jan. 1, 1993.

Sorry, we cannot guarantee the return of the photos and owners must include the name of the cat, age, along with the name and address of the owner, along with a phone number where they can be reached during normal business hours.

The decision of the judges will be final.

Students master postal service skills for the holiday season

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

Delivering mail, especially during the holidays, can be very challenging.

Customers want their Christmas packages delivered on time, and they expect speedy service at the window.

Recently P.D. Graham Elementary students learned what it takes to operate a post office. They created their own delivery service just for students.

Third grade teachers Norma Nicosia and Kay Flogaus assisted with the organization of the project.

"This was such a wonderful experience for the students," Nicosia said. "They learned many lessons including letter writing, how to count money and how a community service works."

The students were also responsible for designing their own stamps and postcards.

"They learned important lessons on teamwork and organization," Flogaus said.

A post office booth was set up in the school for students to purchase handmade postcards for 5 cents or handmade stamps for 1 cent.

The younger elementary students wrote letters to Santa and mailed them at various post boxes throughout the school. The address was, of course, the North Pole.

"We had a few of the older students take mailbags to each of the mailboxes and collect the letters," Flogaus said. "The letters were then opened by our older elementary students who then answered each request or question."

Once the letters were collected, they were delivered first to the student-run post office. A few students were in charge of stamping each letter with an arrival date while other students sorted the mail by classroom for delivery.

"Each student was able to write at least one letter, and they had their letters answered," Nicosia said. "We were also selling stationery which our teachers here designed for 3 cents."

If a postcard or letter did not have the full address, the letter was returned with a "return to sender" stamp.

"The students really understood how the post office works," Flogaus said. "We informed parents they could also send their child a letter or postcard. All the kids really enjoyed it."

Opinion

Christmas wishes

While children perch on Santa's knee, requesting all manner of wonderful toys and games, we have a few Christmas wishes we'd like to request of Santa for our area communities.

In Van Buren and Sumpter townships, we hope for the type of continued good government we've seen during the present administration. The supervisors in these townships, David Jacokes and Marvin Banotoi, have done a remarkable job in providing quiet, dignified leadership to the communities they serve.

In the City of Belleville, we would hope that residents continue to enjoy the services of Mayor Glenn Silvenis who has revealed himself to be an exceptional leader. Belleville is on the road to recovering the retail base and small-town community spirit it once enjoyed. We recall the reputation of Belleville as one of the finest residential communities in the area and are impressed with the incredible strides the community has made to return to that auspicious position.

In the City of Wayne, we hope for a new library, something officials are well on the way to producing. Grant money has been secured and the final planning stages undertaken for this tremendous undertaking. We would also like to see the continued renovation of the Historic Wayne Theatre continue. We would also hope for a stronger retail merchant base in the city so that residents could really shop in their own home town.

In Canton Township we are hoping for good weather so that construction of the Pheasant Run Golf Course and the new community center can continue on course. The community has been long-awaited, and we are hoping it will be opened soon. Residents there, too, have enjoyed a period of calm and efficiency in municipal government. The board of trustees, Supervisor Tom Yack and Clerk Loren Bennett have provided an anecdote of dignity to the once beleaguered township hall where conflict was the order of every day. Residents have benefited tremendously from their choice of leaders.

In Westland, where retail development continues to thrive, we would hope for some solutions to the traffic snarls such popularity invariably brings. We must commend the community leaders who are making an effort toward controlled growth and hope that the strong leadership on both the city council and in the mayor's office continues.

In Inkster we are wishing for enough funding to recall the numerous municipal employees who have been laid off due to budget cuts. While every community is suffering a bit in this difficult economic climate, Inkster seems to have been especially hard hit. We would like to see all city services restored and city workers returned to their jobs.

In Romulus, our wish would be for a quick completion of the Vining Road interchange which is a key step to the development of the multi- million dollar Metro World project which has been under discussion for nearly six years. We would also like to see some more retail development and some residential construction in the city so that it might full realize the potential which is there.

And, Santa, please remember. They've been very, very good this year and deserve to have these wishes granted.

A waiting game

Recently, spokesmen for Wayne County and Northwest Airlines announced that the planned $60 million expansion and renovation at Metro Airport would continue.

There was also the announcement by a county representative that flight patterns would be changed to help alleviate some of the noise which has prompted complaints from many local areas.

That's all good news. We were even supportive of the $3 charge to be placed on all passengers for airport use as an effort to fund the development.

But, within the week came the prediction from an industry analyst that Northwest would fail and that the airline company was doomed.

We think, perhaps, like Mark Twain, the rumors of the demise may be somewhat premature. We hope so.

But, we will wait and see. Meanwhile, we applaud the effort of the county to assure residents they are paying attention and haven't forgotten the plans and promises that have been made.

We're hoping for a happy ending.

Financial aid available

To the editor:

More than 75 percent of high school students polled knew nothing about the student financial aid opportunities available. It is critical that students and parents realize that there is assistance available. They need to know how and where to apply and the application deadline dates.

To enhance the awareness, the Michigan Department of Education and the Michigan Student Financial Aid Association (MSFAA) have designed a number of promotional activities for January which is Financial Aid Awareness Month. Please assist our efforts. Students can receive information at 1-800-242-4183.

Students and parents may call from anywhere in Michigan and speak with an experienced financial aid counselor. The phones will be answered by MSFAA volunteers who will be able to answer general financial aid questions as well as specific questions about the completion of the complicated financial statement applications. The hotline will be offered from 4:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. and on Friday from noon until 5 p.m. Jan. 25 to Jan. 29. This hotline is made possible by the Great Lakes Higher Education Corporation.

Families should be advised to contact their high school guidance counselor and or college financial aid officer for information and application materials.

Lyme disease is real danger

To the editor:

The debate over the presence of Lyme Disease in Michigan is gaining new momentum. On one side is a small, but growing number of physicians diagnosing and treating the disease. Their followers include the hundreds of patients who have suffered with the undiagnosed Lyme for many years and are finally experiencing relief from the debilitating symptoms caused by a Lyme infection.

Opponents refute the existence of the diseases or at best say it is not as prevalent as some would have us believe.

Health department and medical officials are trying to convince the people of Michigan that we do not have Lyme Disease in our state just because they cannot find deer ticks in any county except Menominee County.

Let's look at the facts obtained from Mary Grace Strobowski at the Michigan Department of Health. The Lyme Surveillance Map of Michigan shows there have been 72 cases of Lyme reported since the new CDC criteria came into effect in January of 1991. Of those cases, 48 were in lower Michigan and 11 in the Upper Peninsula. The rest were out of supposed haven for Lyme carrying deer ticks. The health department claims they can find no deer ticks in Saginaw County and yet by their own records, four cases have met the CDC criteria for the disease. To meet that criteria, a patient must present himself to a physician with a Lyme rash and test positive for the disease.

Statistics from the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Animal Division, provide the following information. In 1991, there were 40 dogs and two horses diagnosed and treated for Lyme Disease. Only five of those cases were in lower Michigan. Of the remaining 35 dogs, only six came from Menominee County. Neighboring Gogebec and Dickenson counties each had seven.

To those doctors and residents who are Lyme doubters, I must remind you that the Atlanta Health Center for Disease Control admonishes doctors and health department officials not to use their criteria for diagnosing Lyme Disease. The numbers are strictly for uniform surveillance reporting purposes. Each case that meets the criteria represents many cases that do not meet the criteria.

When I hear doctors and health department officials state, "We do not have Lyme Disease in Michigan," I cannot help but question their credibility in light of the information which comes directly from state department of health. There is no doubt, we do have Lyme Disease in Michigan. Time, money and energy should not be wasted on trying to disprove the existence of the disease. Instead, channel your efforts into figuring out what, in Michigan, is biting us?

If we don't have deer ticks, but we have 59 residents and 40 dogs diagnosed with Lyme Disease, then any reasoning individual can assume something else is biting us. Other states have found other species of ticks transmitting the disease. It is time Michigan officials invest some time and money into researching what is transmitting the disease to Michigan residents.

Stop the fruitless debate and get down to business. The sooner you start asking the right questions, the faster we will have the right answers.

Prevailing wage rule is defended

To the editor:

I take exception to your viewpoints on the opinion page of your newspaper, dated Sept. 13, 1992 entitled "Prevailing Wage."

We the residents of the City of Wayne, elect a council to establish ordinances beneficial to the community only to realize when a few don't get what they want, we have to spend thousands of dollars on a referendum vote to decide an issue that a few disgruntled politicians, who have non-union contractor friends will benefit from. These same politicians enjoy pensions, health care and vacations for their families that they would deny hard working men and women in the name of higher profits for their non-union friends.

Prevailing wage is not a luxury, it is the American way of life. It provides fringe benefits and fair wages so that hard working men and women can live with dignity and provide the American dream to their children.

Currently the Federal Government has established prevailing wages under the Davis-Bacon Act, and the State of Michigan has a prevailing wage law on the state-funded construction projects.

Adopting a prevailing wage ordinance will assure a level playing field for all contractors who pay low wages, bid with a built-in advantage. The workers get a pittance, while employers pocket the profits--all at taxpayers' expense.

The taxpayer pays because the low-paid no fringe employer can't afford to pay for health care for their families, but get treatment through the communities' indigent care program, which are funded with our tax dollars. Not being able to earn a decent affordable life, the worker and his family will always be on the public dole, whether it be for lack of medical insurance, retirement income or job training.

In closing, I would say that low bid is fine if it is low qualified bid, one that has prevailing wage language. I would like to save tax dollars but not at the cost of someone's job or health, as in our every day dealing with our own home, you get what you pay for, because common sense tells us that cheap labor does not come skilled and skilled labor does not come cheap.

Theatres sparkle with big screen holiday fare

There's something for everyone in movie theaters this holiday season - comedy, mystery, drama and fantasy.

Youngsters will probably find Aladdin and Home Alone 2 as their top choices. Toys, starring Robin Williams, also should be good family fare.

Holiday films in western Wayne County theaters are:

• Hoffa, starring Jack Nicolson, is a powerful film about Teamster boos Jimmy Hoffa. The film is set in Detroit, and local scenes can be spotted in the movie - also some local folks are extras in the film.

• Distinguished Gentleman, starring Eddie Murphy as a con man who takes Washington by storm and reveals his good intentions along the way.

• A Few Good Men, with a dynamite cast of Tom Cruise, Jack Nicholson and Demi Moore, will please their fans with this powerhouse story.

• School Ties tells the story of an outsider who attempts to find acceptance in an elite New England preparatory school in 1955.

• Jennifer 8, the story of a beautiful young blind woman who may be the only link to a serial killer.

• Leap of Faith is a comedy starring Steve Martin as the Rev. Jonas Nightengale, a touring revivalist minister.

• Consenting Adults tells the tale of philandering which turns into first-degree murder.

• Flirting is the story of a vulnerable adolescent in the mid-1960s, a coming-of-age story.

• A River Runs Through It, directed by Robert Redford, features beautiful scenery and an appealing adaptation of the novella by Norman Maclean.

• Passenger 57, a good-guy, bad-guy film starring Wesley Snipes as an airline security expert who finds himself in a flight with a terrorist.

• Of Mice and Men, a powerful production of the John Steinbeck classic.

• Night and the City stars Robert DeNiro as an ambulance-chasing attorney. DeNiro fans won't be disappointed.

• Under Seige is not liked by the critics, but audiences - particularly Steven Seagal's fans - love the story about Seagall saving nuclear missiles from terrorists aboard the USS Missouri.

• Zebrahead is a love story between an African-American girl and a white Jewish boy, a modern day West Side Story.. The film as shot in Detroit with some local extras. Watch for them on the screen.

• Malcolm X, starring Denzel Washington in the title role, is a powerful and positive film about the black leader.

The Rev. Jonas Nightengale (Steve Martin) is the leader of a touring revivalist ministry that rakes in dollars by promoting fraudulent miracles in Leap of Faith. This Paramount film was produced by Michael Manheim and David V. Picker and directed by Richard Pearce. ANP Special Photo

Residents send love by Express Mail

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Area residents are being reminded there is still time to "express your love" to out-of-town family members and friends.

Despite the fact that Christmas arrives on Friday, Vernita Martin, U.S. Postal Service District Manager for customer services, urged residents to use Express or Priority Mail services.

"Since winter weather can close airports and halt highway transportation," Martin said, "we advise all mail now be dispatched by Express Mail to ensure delivery by Christmas."

Letters and packages sent by Express Mail are delivered overnight anywhere in the Express Mail Network. The cost is $9.95 for delivery of a half-pound parcel or $13.95 for up to 2 pounds.

To send a 2-pound Priority Mail package the cost is $2.90, a 3-pound parcel costs $4.10, 4 pounds at $4.65 and 5 pounds for $5.45.

For parcels weighing more than 5 pounds the rate varies according to the destination zone, she said.

Express Mail letters are delivered across the country seven days a week, 52 weeks a year and even on holidays.

Christmas Day deliveries will occur at no extra charge.

For family and friends stationed overseas, Express Mail military service officers two and three day service to nearly 300 APOs and FPOs worldwide.

Martin urged, "Those wishing to use Military Express mail for late mailings should check with the post office to assure that the address is among the APOs/FPOs covered by the service."

'Untouchables'

Undefeated Wayne riddles Trenton, Garden City

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Diminutive Wayne Memorial is casting a big shadow in basketball.

The defending Wolverine "A" Conference champ launched the defense of the league title last week with a convincing 71-39 victory over Trenton, then jolted Garden City on Thursday, 81-27.

The two victories enabled the Zebras to close out the 1992 phase of the campaign with an untarnished 4-0 record.

Wayne coach Chuck Henry said that he was "very pleased" and "even surprised" at the way the first-part of the season is progressing.

> At the start of the season I knew we had a very small team that lacked experience, however, these kids are playing terrific defense. The defense has been the story so far. And I hope the kids can continue to do the job.
> - Chuck Henry coach

"Yes, I am surprised that we are 4-0 at this stage," Henry said. "At the start of the season I knew we had a very small team that lacked experience, however, these kids are playing terrific defense. The defense has been the story so far. And I hope the kids can continue to do the job."

In their latest outing, the Zebras trampled Garden City. The champs built up an incredible 23-3 lead in the first period, and with the defense continuing to play havoc on the Jaguars, Wayne also held their opponents to single-digit scoring for the final three periods.

Wayne led 48-12 at the end of the first half and, with Henry substituting freely, the Zebras were free to play without pressure. They went on and outscored their opponents 16-6 and 28-9 in the last two frames.

It was the worst beating inflicted upon a Garden City basketball team in nearly a quarter of a century.

Rod Hardison paced the winners with 16 points. Teammates Bill Romej and Antonio Dodd chipped in 11 and 10 points, respectively. All 12 Wayne players scored.

Earlier in the week, Wayne took on and turned back Trenton, 71-39, in its conference debut.

However, the Zebras showed some vulnerability. They had problems in the first half getting the ball through the rims. Wayne led only by five (25-20) at the intermission,

Vikings pick up 2 wins

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

After losing their 1992-93 season opener, Inkster wrestlers came back and pinned two out-of-conference rivals last week. The Vikings will take the rest of the year off to prepare for the second-half of the campaign.

"I was impressed with some of our kids," Coach Sam Ellis said. "They have a lot of heart."

Ellis, in his second year as head coach, has a pair of outstanding candidates in heavyweight Fred Davis, who has won all six of his matches this season on falls. Also looking good on the mats is freshman Anthony Melchoir, who has compiled a 5-1 record at 103.

Inkster began the sophomore season - the high school had been without a wrestling program for 25 years prior to reinstating the sport a year ago - against a strong Warren Fitzgerald teams and fell, 63-9. Davis and Melchoir provided the Vikings with their only points.

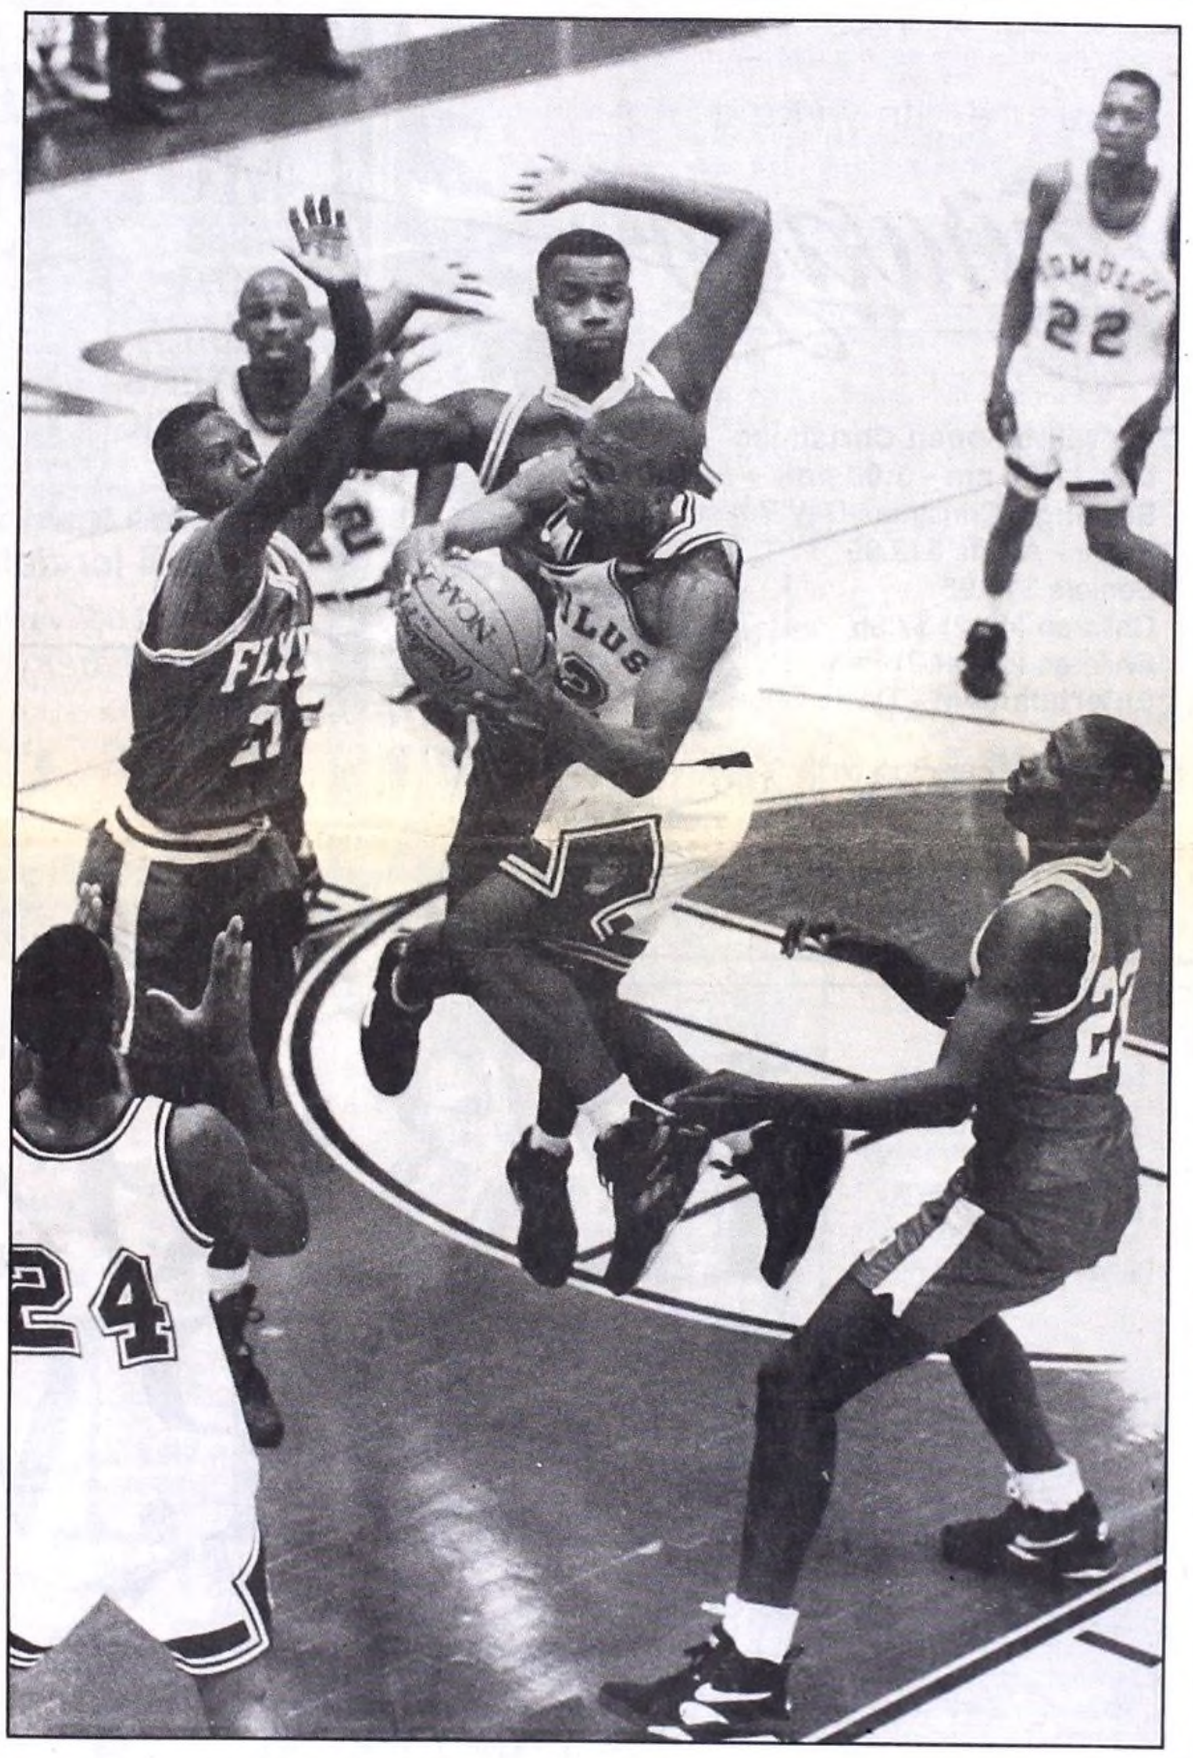
Davis disposed of Tony Celli in 1:05, and Melchoir surfaced from the mat with a close 6-4 victory over Tony Frontera.

"The match was closer than the score indicates," noted Ellis. "There were several matches that could have gone either way."

Ellis added that although the Wiggins twins: Jay, a 119-pounder, and Jason, who competes at 125, were beaten, "They are first-year wrestlers and will improve with time."

He also commended the efforts of Joseph O'Day, a 130-pounder who also is called upon to compete in the 135-pound bracket.

Ellis said that the team to beat this year for the Suburban Athletic Conference title is Oak Park. The Redskins have a score of holdovers from the outstanding last year squad. If the Redskins are hit with a rash of injuries, watch for Willow Run or Highland Park to make a bid for the SAC crown.



Flying-high Eagle

Airborne and flying past two Willow Run defenders, Romulus player Yancy Yharbrough (32) heads for this difficult lay-up shot that was interrupted by a personal foul. Yharbrough and the Eagles posted an easy win over the representative from the Suburban Athletic Conference, posting their second straight victory. Coach Chris Molloy and his chargers were scheduled to participate in a Holiday Tournament on the home court before taking a break for the holidays. The Eagles will return to the home court on Jan. 5 to take on New Boston Huron, a team that has not beaten the Eagles since the late 1960s. ANP photo by Larry DiVizio

Glenn cagers give new coach his 1st victory

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Backed by Aaron Scheffer's superlative display of shooting, Westland John Glenn outscored visiting Wyandotte 27-6 in the first period and coasted to a 65-45 victory over the non-conference rivals last week.

The Rockets presented their rookie coach Mike Schuette with his first victory as head coach.

"The kids played very well, especially in that first-period," noted Schuette. "It gave us an opportunity to use all of our team members, and they all contributed."

The victory was marred by an altercation late in the game. One of the frustrated Wyandotte cagers allegedly shoved, and then used a racial slur at, a Glenn player. The incident erupted into a fist-swinging match between the two players. Officials managed to pull the players apart, and the combatants were ejected.

Officials also decided to end the game with less than a 1 1/2 minutes remaining.

Because Michigan High School Athletic Association rules stipulate that athletes involved in a fight are suspended for one game, the two players will not be able to participate in their next games.

Also, because the Wayne-Westland School District has a rule that any student involved in a fight will be suspended for five days, the Glenn player will face the additional penalty.

School officials said that they will investigate the allegations that the Wyandotte athlete used racially-demeaning words toward the Glenn athlete.

"It was an unfortunate incident," Schuette said. "School officials talked to our kids after the incident. We're satisfied that our team members didn't start the altercation."

Meanwhile, back on the basketball court, Scheffer set the tempo of the game against Wyandotte as he drilled his first three shots from three- point range. His nine points staked the Rockets to a 27-6 advantage, which was never seriously challenged by the Bruins the rest of the evening.

Glenn increased its margin to 44-19 at the midway point and outscored their visitors 11-9 in the third period.

Glenn senior forward Ken Taylor, who tossed in 12 of his game-high 21 points in that decisive first period and also nabbed 14 rebounds, led all scorers. Scheffer finished with 14.

However, the Rockets can count on putting in some extra time at the free-throw line during the holidays after only making six of 16 against the Bruins. Wyandotte made nine of 16 at the charity line.

The Westlanders ended the 1992 phase of the campaign with a 1-1 overall record.

All-Area swim delayed

Because of the holidays and early deadlines, the 1992 All-Area high school girls' swimming & diving team has been postponed until next week.

The team, dominated by Plymouth-Canton and Plymouth-Salem, with a sprinkling of outstanding swimmers from Wayne Memorial, Westland John Glenn and Belleville, features some of the finest prep talent in Michigan.

The team was picked by the ANP sports staff, with the cooperation of area high school coaches.

We regret the delay and any inconvenience it may have caused our readers.

Inkster falls to title contender at-the- buzzer

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

A last-second under-the-basket feed to Jamie Arnold of Oak Park who jammed in two-points gave the Suburban Athletic Conference title hopeful a 74-73 crushing victory over host Inkster.

The at-the-buzzer Oak Park basket erased a 73-72 advantage the Vikings briefly enjoyed during the tug-of-war affair on the Inkster home turf.

Inkster, outscoring their visitors 22-18 in the final period, edged ahead when Richard Cooper bolted from his would-be defender and slipped through for a layup.

It was also Cooper's heroics that rallied the Vikings in the final eight minutes of the SAC opener. He sank all 12 of his points in that period.

"I am disappointed that we lost this game because I felt we let them get away from us," said Inkster coach Spencer Grant. "But, in the same vane, this game I felt, showed our kids that they can play with anyone.

"Oak Park is the pre-season favorite to win the conference title and, if that is so, our kids will have a lot to say about the eventual winner, especially when we get our big kid back."

Grant was referring to Al White, a 6-6, 230-pound sophomore center- forward who is ineligible to play until mid-January. White attended Bishop Borgess at the beginning of the school year but transferred to Inkster, where he had playing ball for his freshman year.

> Oak Park is the pre-season favorite to win the conference title and, if that is so, our kids will have a lot to say about the eventual winner, especially when we get our big kid back.
> - Spencer Grant coach

Arnold caused most of the Vikings' problems. The sharp-shooting Oak Park senior guard pumped in 24 points, including four treys, to keep the Redskins alive.

Inkster trailed by three (16-13) at the end of the first period and the three-point difference showed up again at halftime as both teams scored 15 points. The Vikings managed to cut the lead by one as the two SAC opponents headed into the final frame.

Inkster balanced scoring assault included three others in double figures: Ibrahim Myles sank a team high 17 points, while James Outlaw accounted for 14 points and 11 rebounds. Greg Prewitt chipped in 11.

Grant said that the Vikings got exceptional efforts on defense from Michael Sykes, Lou Elliott and junior Andre Alexander.

Earlier in the week, Inkster dropped another close one to state-ranked East Catholic, 56-50. Up 10-6 in the first period, the Vikings failed to stop the East Catholic 6-8 freshman center Winfred Walton who scored 13 of his game-high 28 points in the second period that helped lift his team to a 29-26 halftime lead.

Walton, joined by Mark Johnson, continued to supply the winners despite a couple of defensive moves by the Vikings.

"We just don't have the size now, so we tried to double-team him (Walton), however, that left Johnson open," Grant said.

Although the Vikings did take a two-point lead midway in the fourth period, they failed to hang on. East Catholic sank four clutch free throws to maintain a slim lead.

Outlaw played a superb game as he hauled down 13 rebounds to go along with his 18 points. Prewitt contributed 11 in the losing effort.

The Vikings didn't get many free throw opportunities, and when they did they made only four of eight.

Belleville draws host Benton Harbor in 1st round

With an impeccable 2-0 victory in the Wolverine 'A' Conference behind them, coach Michael Garland will pack up his Belleville Tigers next week and head for Benton Harbor to compete in the annual Benton Harbor Holiday Invitational Championship.

The conference title-hopeful tuned up Thursday for the prestigious northern tournament by destroying Wyandotte, 76-47.

The Benton Harbor tourney will give Garland an opportunity to test his scoring machine against some of the finest prep teams in the state, including two from Detroit.

Benton Harbor is seated in the runner-up spot, behind Detroit Pershing, in the Class A state rankings.

Down the road and what has to be in the back of Garland's mind is the pending showdown with a tough Wayne club, which has a string of four impressive victories, including a win over perennial powerhouse Detroit Catholic Central.

The Tigers got a scare from a 1-3 Wyandotte team that trailed only by seven (32-25) at half time.

Wayne

and Henry had plenty to tell his cagers at halftime.

When they came back to the floor, Dodd got the Zebras going. He tossed in 10 of his game high 18 points to pull the Zebras away. At the end of the period, Wayne enjoyed an 18-point (48-20) cushion. The champs sealed the victory with a 23-9 scoring advantage in the last period.

The inability of Wayne to make percentage shots in the first half helped keep Trenton in the game. The Zebras shot 27 percent for the first two periods, but came back in the second half to make more than 50 percent of their attempts from the field.

Dodd was the only player to score in double figures.

Wayne will return from the holidays to face Monroe.

Tiger Swim Club launches membership drive

Sam Vicchy

(EDITOR'S NOTE: For the first time in nearly a quarter of a century, Belleville High failed to field a varsity swim team. In the wake of the controversy, former Belleville High swim coach Sam Vicchy, and several other swim coaches are attempting to reorganize the Tiger Swim Club. The club helped train youngsters to swim and later become members of the high school team. The ANP has asked Vicchy, a former ANP All-Area Swim Coach of the Year, to provide some background and information about the club. Here is Coach Sam Vicchy's views.)

By Sam Vicchy
Special to the ANP

The "Tiger Swim Club" is an organization devoted to developing competitive swimming in the Belleville area. This age group swimming program is open to young girls and boys 8-years-old and under and up to 18 years of age. Any boy or girl interested in competitive swimming or diving may join.

This age group program was founded by a group of parents in the Belleville area in 1970. The first swimming practice sessions began in May of 1970 and were directed by William Brandell, Harold Lonski and Gary Gray. The once large and very popular program dissolved in 1986 due to a lack of adult supervision and interest.

We are trying to rejuvenate the program along with the once popular "learn to swim" lessons because of a very strong interest and need of a fast-growing community.

Our program is designed to meet the needs and abilities of all age groups, with regular practices at the Belleville High School pool. Practices are conducted four days a week, from 5 to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Competitive swimming is one of the healthiest, fastest growing, most exciting and rewarding sports a child can participate in today. It differs from regular swim lessons in that the child is actually afforded an opportunity to test his or her own abilities and talents by competing against other children of the same age group in swim meets.

In as much as these meets are run by professionals deeply concerned about the welfare of the child, swimming offers the kind of healthy competition sometimes lacking in other junior sports. These professionals carefully control the meets with a staff, set of rules and regulations to create an atmosphere that will encourage a child rather than discourage them. Swimming will help rather than hinder a child in growing physically and mentally at their own pace in this individual sport.

In swimming a child is not rewarded by monetary gains or by flashy newspaper articles. They are however rewarded by the personal satisfaction of watching their times drop as a result of hard work and effort and also by developing such assets as physical and mental fitness, sportsmanship, character, self-discipline, and many other positive attributes.

The Tiger Swim Club will be an outgrowth of the learn-to-swim program and is open to only those young swimmers interested and who have successfully graduated from swimming classes or have the skills necessary to participate in this program. The competitive team will operate throughout the school year and summer months and is financed by monthly dues paid by the members. These dues are necessary to cover coaching fees, expenses and other operations incurred by the club.

Almost anyone could become a competitive swimmer, but it takes a special kind of individual to become a very good competitive swimmer. A swimmer must possess the proper physical attributes, the proper attitude and intelligence. He or she must be the type of youngster who is willing to push themselves in practices and be willing to follow instructions given to them.

Most importantly, they must also have the desire and self-discipline to be a good competitive swimmer without being pushed constantly by others.

Whether or not a child will become a good competitive swimmer will take months to find out. Progress is slow at first, especially for the beginner. As soon as a child learns the skills and has sufficient practice time, however, progress will increase at a rapid rate.

Of one thing we can assure you, as a parent and spectator, you will find competitive swimming one of the most fascinating and exciting sports in existence.

The "Tiger Swim Club" affords a boy or girl, regardless of race, color or creed, the opportunity to compete, and when consistent, to excel athletically, personally and spiritually. The swimmer learns the discipline of play and acquires self-confidence and leadership while learning to respect others.

The youngster also becomes physically agile and enduring, strong in body and health. As

The youngster also becomes physically agile and enduring, strong in body and health. As they progress in the age groups they will earn recognition and honor.

If you are interested in the program, please contact the Van Buren Education Program at 697-9494 or 697-9123.

Swim sign-up dates set

The Tiger Swim Club is accepting registration for winter swimming and diving programs. Officials are also signing up children for their Learn to Swim program.

Registrations will be accepted from 5:30 to 7 p.m. during the week beginning Monday, Jan. 4 through Friday, Jan. 8 at the Belleville High School pool, located at 501 W. Columbia.

There is a $15 registration per child fee to join the swim club and an additional $30 (total $45) for the winter swimming session.

The Learn to Swim program will cost $18 per session.

For additional information, please contact the Belleville High School pool or coach Sam Vicchy at 687-4043.

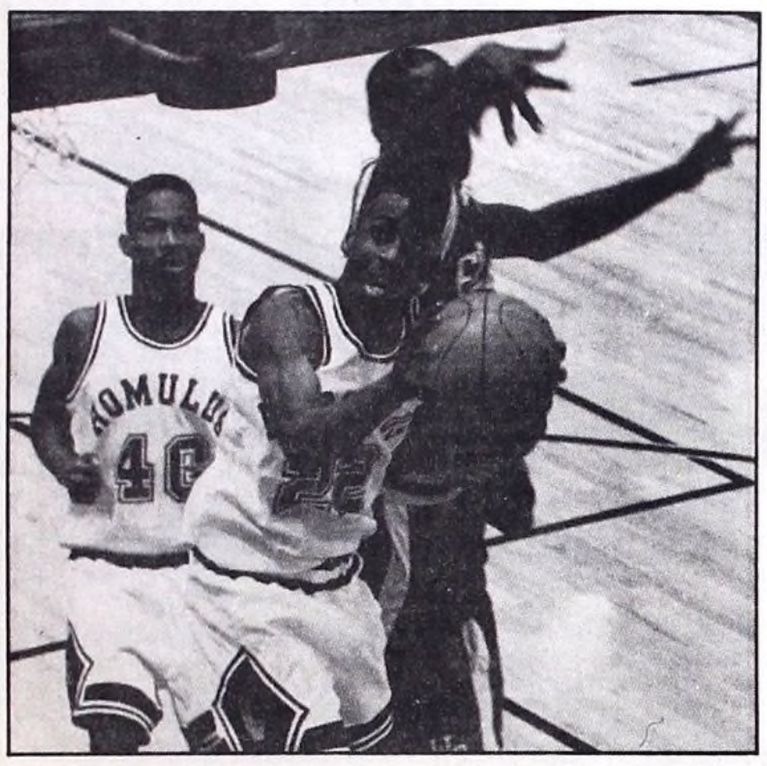
Instructors are needed

If you have any water safety teaching skills, officials of the Belleville-based Tiger Swim Club would like to hear from you.

Club officials said that they are seeking qualified instructors for their Learn to Swim program, which will begin next month.

Instructors will be asked to teach at least three to four days a week at the Belleville High School pool in located in the Van Buren School District in Belleville.

Potential candidates are requested to contact former Belleville High swim coach Sam Vicchy at 697-4043.



Up and in

With teammate Christ Worthy (40) standing by for action, Romulus' Jeff Smith is heading for a three-point play. Smith put up the rebound and collected a foul in the process. The Eagles made short work of the visiting Flyers and will be back on the home court Jan. 5 when they host New Boston Huron Chiefs. ANP photo by Larry DiVizio

A PRAYER
To the Holy Spirit

Holy Spirit, You, who made me see everything and showed me the way to reach my ideal. You, who gave me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me and You, who are in all instances of my life, with me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank You once mere for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from You, no matter how great the material desires may be. I want to the be with You and my loved ones in Your perpetual glory. Amen. Tank You for Your love towards me and my loved ones. Persons must pray this prayer three consecutive days without asking for your wish after the third day, your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it may be. Than promise to publish this dialogue as soon as this favor is granted. C.H.
